Class Description: Join us to learn how much fun American History can be! This class will sharpen reading ability while we learn about history. The books: Time Travel Adventures with Exceptional Americans. Note: We will be reading these books during a portion of our class-time. Other books will be required to be read at home for assigned book reports and special writing projects.

This class will also introduce writing to the Students, and endeavor to make writing fun. Each Student will take turns hosting our mascot, Liberty, for the week, along with his stable (string-pack), and a class notebook. Students who host Liberty for the week will write about their weekly adventures with Liberty, and then share them with the class by reading their writing aloud. We will work on some interesting writing projects, and we will have a few fun class parties, games, & special events that correspond to historical events.
