Rachael Desaulniers Teacher Bio

Rachael Desaulniers received a Bachelor of Science from Loyola University in Chicago and an Associate Degree in Nursing from Truman College in Chicago. She works part-time as a Registered Nurse. She has enjoyed studying science since grade school and participated in science fairs in elementary and high school.

Mrs. Desaulniers believes studying science is uncovering God's truths and laws about His creation. She lives with her husband and two sons in Algonquin and have given both boys a homeschool education since 2007.
